BRAND HISTORY

DELSEY was founded in 1946 by Emile Delahaye and André & Walter Seynhaeve. It has been dedicated to making travel easier for users by inventing new products, new functionalities and new features. In 1946, as the Delahaye company, manufacturers of leather cases for cameras, merged with the Seynhaeve company, makers of sheathed cases for typewriters or record players, a new name in leather goods for travel.

In the 1970s, it introduced luggage with an ultra-resistant rigid shell and the revolutionary trolley system. It has innovated to ensure the security of contents inside the luggage by creating locking systems and the patented anti-theft SECURITECH® zip, staying true to its original vocation of protecting a camera.

COLLABORATION

DELSEY PARIS has teamed up with the most famous Grand Slam tournament for a collaboration in the colors of the emblematic clay court of Roland-Garros and has created an elegant and sporty edition of luggage and accessories.

DELSEY PARIS and ROLAND-GARROS share not only Parisian origins but also the values of French style elegance and avant-gardism. It's therefore only natural that the two brands should come together to create a unique and instantly recognisable set of luggage.

A person wearing a black coat and a white hat stands by a calm lake, holding a light-colored suitcase. The person's reflection is clearly visible in the water. In the background, there are traditional Chinese buildings with dark tiled roofs and a range of large, rugged mountains with significant snow cover under a blue sky with scattered white clouds. The overall scene is serene and evokes a sense of travel and exploration.
