The Samsonite Brand

VISION & PHILOSOPHY

At the heart of Samsonite's innovations lie a simple vision: to provide travelers around the world with high-quality luggage. This was the belief behind the original "Samson" trunk designed by Jesse Schwayder in 1910, and still holds true for every item in the brand's extensive offerings now. From the introduction of the budget-friendly Streamlite in 1941, to the invention of the wheeled case in the 1970s, to the adoption of the technologically-advanced and lightweight Curv[®] material in 2008, Samsonite has made many breakthroughs during its pursuit of quality.

Today, Samsonite has continued to lead the industry, offering innovative solutions to meet the evolving needs of the modern traveler with its extensive range of quality products.

QUALITY

A Samsonite Cornerstone

Samsonite constantly subjects its bags and cases to stringent evaluation methodologies at its testing lab in Belgium. Here, expert quality teams ensure all Samsonite-branded products are of the highest standard and capable of withstanding the incredibly tough conditions. Small wonder Samsonite luggage's exceptional durability is consistently hailed by both travelers and the media.

The Jerk & Lift Test

Suitcases are hung by their handles on a spring mechanism and first jerked and then lifted 15 cms 3,000 times.

The Mileage Cycle Test

Suitcase wheels are continuously rolled over different surfaces, steps and curves for 16 kms. An Automated Non-stop Kerb Drop & Lift Tester also alternatively pulls and drops cases for a total of 750 steps.

The Impact Test

Specially designed for Curv® cases, this test drops darts into shells to establish the amount of force they can absorb.

QUALITY

The Tumble Test Cases are tumbled inside a large rotating drum for 50 full cycles. Only cases that emerge fully functional and with all their exterior printing intact pass.

The Humidity Test Cases are left in cabinets set at 38°C and 98% humidity for 10 days to measure any corrosion. A subsequent 144-hour UV Test then monitors potential discoloration resulting from over-exposure to bright sunlight.

The Overload Test To ensure its hardcase suitcases can withstand a minimum of 290 kgs of pressure, Samsonite places a hydraulic plate inside and then screws items to an "overload table". Cases are then pushed outwards to establish how much force they can withstand before springing open. Softside luggage zippers undergo a similar test involving the inflation of tires.
